Aug. 30, 1863. MR. EDITOR: We are here in our beaus tiful camp, taking our rest, getting plenty to-eat; all of us have got good clothes and nearly all our men good shoes, in fine spirits, and above all else, we are generally in fine health. It our people at home were here in the army, they would be surpris in amp, on drills and reviews. We ow having daily reviews by Brigade, ors and Corps Generals, at which times places we have fine exhibition of gray with guilt buttons, brade, stars and with the blest smiles of the lovely s on such occasions; everything ns to go on smoothly. We have had a quiet for this time of the year, but it fine thing that we have had the opporty to rest as we have, for we were in h need of it. No one only those who e in it and went through with it) will know what we went through in great Pennsylvania campaign; but nk God many of us have lived through and able to meet the invaders of our soil gain when the call is made. The people efforts aid and assist us with all their powat lome must not despond, but by their deserters, and our army will be able whip the enemy and drive him from our ntry and soon end the war, when we all then return home to our friends and tions. That will be one of the prouddays of our lives; and to hasten on t long-wished-for time, we must all do duty in the army and at home. Interesting Correspondence.

We are indebted to Gr.v. Vance for a copy of the following interesting correspondence. - Raleigh Progress.

RICHMOND, VA, Aug. 19. His Excellency, Z. B. Vance, Governor of North Carolina :

SIR :- In the ection of the 1st of July, near Gettysburg, the Sharpshooters of Brigade, under

N. C. Volunteers, dispersed the 150th Pennsplvania Regiment. That gallant officer, with his own hands, wrestled the standard from the color bearer of the Pennsylvania Regiment, and soon after wards fell, mortally wounded.

Gen. Ramseur in communicating the above particulars, informed me that it was Harney's last request that the flag should be presented in his name to the President.

The wish of the dying hero has been complied with. The flag is in my possession and will be treated by me as an honorable memento of the valor and patriotic devotion which the soldiers of North Carolina have displayed on many hard-fought

I have thought it due to the lamented officer, with whose family I have not the advantage of being acquainted, to communicate these circumstances to you, as Chief Magistrate of his State, and to express through you to his State, his comrades and his family, the sincere sympathy I feel with them for the loss of one so worthy of their admiration and esteem.

Such deeds illustrate a people's history, justify a people's pride and sustain a couns try's cause.

I remain, very respectfully.

and truly yours, JEFFERSON DAVIS.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 28.

His Excellency, Jefferson Davis, President Confederate States : SIR :- Your letter of the 19th inst., has been received, informing me of the gallant conduct and heroic death of Lieut. F. M. Harney, 14th N. C. Troops, on the field at Gettysburg, and asking me to make known to his family your sympathy with them for the loss of one so brave and worthy of their esteem.

I do not know that he has any relatives whatever in North Carolina. He was born in Kentucky and saw some service as a soldier under Gen. Wm. Walker during his campaign in Central America. At the commencement of hostilities, he was residing in the town of Ashville, N. C., pursuing his occupation as carpenter, and joining the company which I had the honor to raise, he was made orderly sergeant, and by good conduct and hard fighting won his way to first ligutenant.

Politics -A paper claiming to take no active part in the politics of the day, is not on that account to be excused from taking a bold and outspoken stand on the uestion of Southern Independence. It is the duty of the conductors of the press to take a stand of firm and unwavering support in behalf of the Southern cause, At no time in the history of our struggle, has it been so important for the paners of the Confederacy to speak out encouragingly, and flown down-at stiempla at creating disturbances at home, and desaiisfaction in the army, as the present

We engage in no controversies and have as little to say as possible on the questions and movements calculated to stir up party strife and ill feeling, yet on the one great question of the war, we shall feel it to be our duty to go with the South, the land of our home and birth Greensboro' (N. C.) Patriot.

we have given him a complete thrashing, sipation and negro soldier po adopted-when survile insurrection was employed-and when, thereby, the North was radically divided, and the South united, as only a people can be who defend their rights of property, the integrity of their hearth-stones, and the purity of their women-when this came to pass the defeat of the North was ordained; and so long as these policies shall stand, so long will the North fail. They are wicked policies, and God will never prosper the armies that uphold them.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 3. All perfectly quiet to-day. No firing whatever, but the enemy is reported close to Wagner.

FROM MISSISSIPPI,

ATLANTA, Sept. 3. Passengers from Mississippi report the movements at Greenport, to and from Natches, very active. No journals are allowed to pass out of the city. It is supposed Natches will be made their headquarters for their base of operations in West Louisiana and Texas. Gunboas are posted and small steamers patrol in the vicinity of the several crossings on the river. Great vigilance is used by the Yankees to prevent transit. Every boat and raft built on the river is destroyed at sight.

Seventy-two Yankee prisoners taken in Mississippi, arrived this evening.

JACKSON, Sept. 3. A gentleman just from Vicksburs, says Osterhaus commands the post at Big Black bridge, and that no person is allowed to pass the Federal lines in or out, under any circumstance, including ladies. Large numbers have been turned back. The Federals are hauling cotton in large quantities from points east of Big Black, daily. LATER FROM CHARLESTON,

CHARLESTON, Sept. 4. Nothing of special interest has transpired since the last dispatch. Things are getting pretty hot at Wagner. The enemy have advanced,—the sappers being only about one hundred and fitty yards distant. Sharp shooting is constantly going on,-The enemy has not fired at the ruins of Sumter lately.

HOOP COMBS. GUTA PERCHA HOOP COMBS, just opened at KAHNWEILER & BRO, aug 19, 1863-tf

To the Voters of the Eigth Cong District of North Gwolis

I respectfully announce myself to By your kind partiality I have the hone of a seat in the First Congress of the Confederate States. From the time of melection the Confederacy has been engaged election the Confederacy has been engaged in a stypendous war, for the purpose of driving back the ruthless invadera of its soil, and establishing the peace and independence to which it is so justly estitled. Overtures having been repeatedly made by our Government, to terminate hostilities and exists the avisting difficulties by peaced and the control of the contr and settle the existing difficulties by ne-gotiation and honorable adjustment, and these overtures having been as often indig-nantly rejected, no alternative remained to us but to drive back the invaders and con-

while in Congress, therefore, as your representative, I used every exertion in my power to strengthen and increase the army, to give proper assistance and en-couragement to the Executive, and to pre-vent, as far as possible, those disastrous collisions between the civil and the military authorities which are so apt to occur and so difficult to adjust in time of war,

I voted for both Conscription acts, not because I desired to force the Southern citizen from his home and family to the camp and the battle-field, but because I considered them indispensable to the independence of the country.

I voted to raise the pay of the non-commissioned officers and privates in the army, because I believed that they both deserved and needed it.

I voted against the Exemption acts, not because I was opposed to all exemptions, but because I considered those acts wrong in principle, dangerous in policy, and un just in many of their discriminations.

I voted for the Funding bill, because I thought it necessary to diminish the volume of the currency and thereby to give more healthy action to the finances of the country.

I voted for the Tax bill of the House, which was rejected by the Senate: but, before the conference bill, which is the present law, came up for action in the House, I was called away by affliction in my family, and hence I had no opportunity to vote either for or against that measure.

In fine, I voted for every measure which I thought would give strength to our army, vigor to the Government, and confidence to the country, Should you endorse my course as your Presentative by a re-election to Congress, I shall be guided by the same principles and policy which my record indicates, and I shall devote my best energies and attention to secure your interests: and, although I desire peace as ardently as any one, and shall use every honorable means to obtain it, yet I will consent to no adjustment which does not bring with it the indepen-dence of the Confederate States, their total separation from the United States, and all the blessings of liberty to which we are entitled by inheritance and for which we are now contending.

Our cause is just. Our trust is in God. Our destiny, I firmly believe, into be vice torious in this struggle, and to enjoy a career glorious beyond parallel in all past history. Let us prove ourselves worthy of our cause, and worthy of our destiny. Let us but be united in our efforts, and the whole world combined cannot enslave us.

I am, very respectfully, Your obedient servant, W. LANDER. Lincolnton, Aug. 27, 1863.

ot only gratitue broad; your en which our fin abroad; your enemies continue a struggle in which our final triumph must be inevitable. Unduly elated with their recent success, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit or shake your determination, and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion in the vain hope that by a desperate effort, success may at length be reached.

You know too well my countrymen.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives, and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory, that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties have stamped infamy on their Government. They design to incite sewile insurection and light the fires of incendiarism wherever they can reach your homes, and they debauch the inferior race, hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions as the price of treachery. Conscious of their inability to prevail by leitimate warfare, not daring to make peace least they should be hurled from their seats of power, the men who now rule in Washington refuse even to conter on the subject of putting an end to outrages which dis-grace our age, or to listen to a suggestion for conducting the war according to the usages of civilization.

Fellow-citizens, no alternative is left you but victory, or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this end, all that is necessary is, that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart, should prompt.y repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus so strengthen the armies of the Contederacy as to ensure sucess. The men now absent from their posts would, if present in the field, suffice to create numercial equality between our force and that of the invaders-and when with approach to such equality, have we failed to be victorious? I believe that but few of those, absent are actuated by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been so long separated; that others have left toe temporary attention to their affairs, with the intention of returning, and then have shrunk from the consequences of their violation of duty; that others again, have left their posts from mere restlessness and desire of change, each quieting the upbraidings of his conscience by pursuading himself that his in-dividual services could have no influence on the general result. These and other causes (although far l disgraceful than the desire to avoid d ger, or to escape from the sacrifics req ed by patriotism) are, nevertheless, gous faults, and place the cause of of loved country, and of everything dear, in imminent peril. I repeat men who now owe duty to their who have been called out and he reported for duty or who have themselves from their posts, a in number to secure us victory gle now impending.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE CON-PEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA.

HIS Association, at its meeting in April, resolved to hold its next meeting at Atlanta, Georgia, on the first Wednesday in September. The state of the country, very different from what it was anticipated at that time, forbids the expectation of a general attendence of the teachers and the friends of education; and many of them have expressed the opinion that the purposes of the Association would be best subserved by postponing the meeting. Consurring in these views, and believing that they express the general judgment, I deem myself authorized to announce that the meeting of the Association is POSTPONED to some future day, of which due notice will be given in the public prints.

An Important Decision.

The annexed highly important information is copied from the Raleigh Progress: HABEAS CORPUS. - In the habeas corpus case referred to by as the other day, Chief Justice Pearson has decided that members of the State force known as the Home Guard cannot be required to perform ordinary militia duty, and therefore cannot be employed by the Governor for the are rest of deserters and recusant conscripts. The opinion is one of much interest and we may publish it hereafter.

This decision makes a distinction between the Home Guard and militia, in fact declares that the Home Guard are not militia: This leaves the Governor no militia but the officers, and of course he cah do nothing with them unless he turns them over to the enrolling officers. We have no doubt the decision of Judge Pearson is made in conformity with the law, but it is to be regretted that the Legisla ture should have passed a law that deprives the Governor of the 'right to call out the militia-for the Home Guard is nothing else really-to assist in arrest ing deserters and sending conscripts to the camp. The decision renders the Govs ernor powerless as far as the outrages being committed by deserters are concerned.

From Bragg's Army.

A correspondent (290) of the Atlanta Intelligencer closes his account of the battle of Chicamauga with the following states ment of reasons why Gen. Bragg did not follow up bis victary, and the address of Gen. Bragg to his troops:

But for the want of rations Gen. Bragg would have followed up his vict ry the next day, but our troops were unable to move until our supplies came up. In this great battle Gen. Bragg has exhibited military sagacity far overreaching Rose crans, and by his masterly manœuvres has handled his army with a skill and judgment that only could have secured to n such a glorious victory.

I close this letter by appending his conratulatory address to his troops, which will be read with a thrilling glow of interest, and over which every true heart will, with gratitude to God; devoutly rejoice.

> HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF TENN., Field of Chicamauga, Sept. 22, 1863,

It has pleased Almighty God to reward the valor and endurance of our troops, by giving to our arms a complete victory over the enemy's superior numbers.

. Homage is due, and is rendered unto Him who giveth not the battle to the Soldiers! after two days of severe battle, preceded by heavy and important outpost affairs, you have stormed the barricades and breastworks of the enemy, and driven before you in confusion and disorder an army largely superior in jumbers, and whose constant theme was your demoralization, and whose constant boast was your defeat. Your patient endurance under privations,-your fortitude and your valor, displayed at all times and under all trials, have been meetly rewarded.

Your commander acknowledges his obligations, and promise to you, in advance, the country's gratitude.

But our task is not ended. We must drop a soldier's tear upon the graves of the noble men who have fallen by our sides, and move forward.

Much has been accomplished. More remains to be done before we can enjoy the blessings of peace and freedom.

BRAXTON BRAGG.

A BOLD FEAT.-Thirty-nine deserters from a Virginia regiment in Bragg's army, passed through this place last Sunday week, all mounted and armed with the Mississippi rifle. They represented themselves as belonging to Williams' cavalry, and on their way to that command, and thus succeeded in passing through this place. On Monday, however, suspicion was aroused that all was not right, and Maj. John W. Woodfin with 25 men put off on the track. The deserters it seems went to Alexander & Burnett's, ten miles below here and on the direct road to Tennessee, when, from some cause, they changed their route and struck across the country. This fact Maj. Woodfin learnbefore starting, and shaped his course ac. cordingly. He pressed after them with his handful of men, riding two entire days and nights without resting, and at daylight on Thursday morning overtook them encamped on Watauga river, some eighty miles from this place. Some of his men had fallen behind, their horses having broke down under the long rapid march, so but eighteen men. He surrounded their camp almost before they were aware of his presence, and demanded a surrender, which, after some parley, was complied with He captured 36, two making their escape, and one being absent from the camp at the time. When they found they had surrendered to just one halt their own num ber, their mortification was extreme.

Maj. Woodfin returned to this place on Friday evening, when his prisoners were properly cared for, and are, ere this, lodged at Camp Vance, near Morganton.

Some of these prisoners admit that all of the horses except three were stolen.

Maj Woodfin and the gallant men under his command deserve the thanks of every good citizen for this daring achieve ment. They have returned 36 soldiers to duty and rid the country of a dangerous band of free dealers in horseflesh .- A sheville News, Sept. 20.

MR. MASON, THE ENGLISH CONTEDERATE MINISTER, EN ROUTE FOR THE SOUTH .- Two separate announcements reached us yesters day, which, when combined, appear highly important. One was to the effect that a Confederate cruiser, the Florida, was off an Irish port; the other that Mr. Mason, the Southern Commissioner, nad just passed through Chester, en route to 'Holyhead Dublin, &c.' It is probable that Mr. Mason is returning to the Southern States for some important purpose, and that in corida was waiting to conuey him to his destination .- Liverpool paper, Aug 19.

A CARD.

To the Voters of the Eight Congressional District of North Garolina : I respectfully announce myself to you as candidate for re-election. By your kind partiality I have the honor of a seat in the First Congress of the Confederate States. From the time of my election the Confederacy has been engaged n a stupendous war, for the purpose of driving back the ruthless invaders of its soil, and establishing the peace and independence to which it is so justly entitled. Overtures having been repeatedly made by our Government, to terminate hostilities and settle the existing difficulties by negotiation and honorable adjustment, and these overtures having been as often indignantly rejected, no alternative remained to us but to drive back the invaders and conquer a peace by force of arms.

While in Congress, therefore, as your representative, I used every exertion in my power to strengthen and increase the army, to give proper assistance and en-couragement to the Executive, and to prevent, as far as possible, those disastrous collisions between the civil and the military authorities which are so apt to occur and so difficult to adjust in time of war,

I voted for both Conscription acts, not because I desired to fore Southern citizen from his home and mily to the camp and the battle-field, but because I considered them indispensable to the independence of the country. I voted to raise the pay of the non-commissioned officers and privates in the army, because I believed that they both deserved and needed it.

I voted against the Exemption acts, not because I was opposed to all exemptions, but because I considered those acts wrong in principle, dangerous in policy, and unjust in many of their discriminations.

I voted for the Funding bill, because I thought it necessary to diminish the volume of the currency and thereby to give more healthy action to the finances of the country. I voted for the Tax bill of the House, which was rejected by the Senate: but, before the conference bill, which is the present law, come up for action in the House, I was called away by affliction in my fami-ly, and hence I had no opportunity to vote either for or against that measure.

In fine, I voted for every measure which I thought would give strength to our army, vigor to the Government, and confidence to the country.

Should you endorse my course as your representative by a re-election to Congress, I shall be guided by the same principles and policy which my record indicates, and shall devote my best energies and attenon to secure your interests: and, although desire peace as ardently as any one, and shall use every honorable means to obtain it, yet I will consent to no adjustment which does not bring with it the indepen-dence of the Confederate States, their total separation from the United States, and all the blessings of liberty to which we are entitled by inheritance and for which we are now contending.
Our cause is just. Our trust is in God.

Our destiny, I firmly believe, is to be victorious in this struggle, and to enjoy a career glorious beyond parallel in all past history. Let us prove ourselves worthy of our cause, and worthy of our destiny. Let us but be united in our efforts, and the whole world combined cannot enslave us.

I am, very respectfully, Your obedient servant.

FROM CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, Sept. 26. The Yankees have worked very little at their batteries to-day, our fire keeping them close under cover.

Our mortors on Sullivan's Island work admirably; the shells thrown are so accurate that they fall in the middle of the enemy's battery nearly every fire.

There was considerable commotion in the enemy's fleet to day. It is supposed Farragut was visiting each vessel.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 27. . The enemy is evidently making himself impregnable on Morris Island. Besides enlarging and strengthening batteries Gregg and Wagner, he has erected palisades around his works to guard against any effort on our part to retake the Island by assault.

The enemy has teams of mules constantly transporting his supplies from the South end of the Island to Cumming's Point, notwithstanding our fire.

Our James Island batteries were shelling the enemy last night.

A heavy Confederate force was before Chattanooga.

SECOND DISPATCH.

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.

Our lines extend around Chattanooga, ithin striking distance, our troops being well up to the front and full supplies were' close on Wednesday.

On Wednesday night our cavalry occupied Coopers' Gap on Look-Out mountain 12 miles from Chattanooga.

On that night Gen. Wheeler made a reconnoisance towards Look-Out mountain and found infantry in force.

The enemy were driven away from the mountain, which is now held by Longstreet's cavalry.

The enemy's operations are plainly seen from Look-Out mountain. Rosencrants has two lines of defences on the road to Chattanooga about 600 yards apart and they are crowded with men. He has one pontoon across the river and others so crowded on wagons that it is impossible to determine where they are crossing, whether into or out of Chattanooga, but the impression is that Rosenerants is bringing them over as they may be needed.

Longstreet commands the river and railroad below Chattanooga.

Officers from Hood's division on the train just arrived, report that they left Look-Out mountain yesterday morning and that important position is held by Hood's division now commanded by Gen. Jenkins.

Yankee Prisoners.

We copy the annexed from the Atlanta Intelligencer of the 24th inst. and concur in the opinion, having seen many of the same gang scattered throughout Charlotte on Monday morning at liberty, the most contemptible looking cut throat scamps we have ever seen:

ARRIVAL OF THE FIRST INSTALLMENT OF YANKERS .- The train on Tuesday evening brought down the first installment of Yankee prisoners from Bragg's army.— They were part of some 2,500 captured on Saturday, and were full of bombast. They are the most hang dog looking scoundrels we have ever seen.

On Saturday we appealed to our tellow citizens and especially the city authorities, not to allow the Yankee prisoners to come into town and suggested that the officer in command be promptly advised by the Executive officer of the town the necessity of complying with the order. But, although some preparation was made to enforce the resolution of the Commissioners, no respect was paid to the wish of the authori-

Such an outrage we hope will not be repeated, for the citizens, by authority have organized and will enforce respect for our municipal regulations.

At about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, a special messenger was sent to the Mayor to send a force to the depot to keep the prisoners in subjection as they had exhibited signs of insubordination. The call was responded to and at this writing the citizens, under command of Col. L. S. Wiffiams, are moving to the depot, properly armed, to enforce the observance of the authorities.

P. S.-Evening. - The presence of the citizen police has quieted the insubordinate, and after discharging their duty as a military guard up to the departure of the prisoners they were dismissed until again

From Chattanooga.

In their haste to get across the river most of the prisoners taken by the Yankees were released. They retained, however, all officers who had fallen into their hands .-Among the captured Brig. Dan Adams is

The Eederals have a jolly way of throwing down their guns and rushing to the rear of our troops when they have enough of our musketry. While Gen. Little was not tar from our line, his men suddenly rushed torward, and when he was for a moment amazed at the brilliant charge made without orders, and then when he saw that their muskets had been thrown away, he sought himself to escape with his staff. He turned his horse to fly, but it was too late; he, and every man near him was killed. He was shot through the head, the ball entering just above the neck, and coming out above his nose.

Among the prisoners, we have soldiers from Meade's army, and they tell us that Sherman's Corps is on the march from Huntsville, Ala., that Burnside is coming down from East Tennessee, and that Grant is assending the Cumberland river.

AN IMPORTANT EVENT TO HAPPEN THREE YEARS HENCE. - The date of the end of the world is satisfactorily fixed for the year 1866. There is an ancient prediction, repeated by Nostrademus in his "Centuries." which says that when St. George shall erucity the Lord, when St. Mark shall raise Him, and St. John shall assist at His ascension, the end of the world shall come. In the year 1866, it will happen that Good Friday shall fall on St. George's day, ter Sunday on St. Mark's day, and Holy Thursday, or Ascension Day will also be the Feast of St. John the Baptist.

The 13th N. C. Regiment -- A Correction.

For the Charlot'e Bulletin.L HEADQUARTERS 13TH N. C. REGT. September 22, 1863.

Mr. Editor :- In the Catawba Journal, of the 15th inst., appeared an article, copied from the Petersburg Express, giving the names of ten members of Co. H, 13h regiment N. C. Troops, who were to be executed for the double crime of desertion and murder-the killing of Adjutant Mallett being charged upon them. This is altogether a mistake so far as the 13th regiment is concerned. The murderers of Adjutant Mallett belonged to some N. C. regiment in Gen. Johnston's division of Gen. Ewell's corps, while the 13th regiment is attached to Gen. Wilcox's division of Gen, A. P. Hill's corps. Co. H, of the 13th regiment, is from the good old county of Rockingham, was brought into service by Captain (now General) A. M. Scales, and is composed of as stanch fighting material and as good Southern men as can be found in the Confederacy.

The 13th regiment has done its duty nobly and well; has fought unflinchingly from the sharp little conflict at Williamsburg, Va., to the desperate battle at Gettysburg, Pa., and it will continue to fight, using its utmost efforts to drive back an insolent and dastardly foe, who I am sorry to see receives no small degree of encouragement from the skulkers and peace men at home who are too cowardly to risk their valuable carcasses in the way of Yankee bullets, but are mean enough to endeavor to sow the seeds of disaffection among men who are not so nervous as they and are disposed to do their whole duty towards their bleeding country. No sir, there have been no desertions among the original members of the old 13th regiment. These men had an object in view when they bid adieu to their tamilies and feft the quiet and comforts of their homes, and until that object is accomplished they will remain where duty calls them, turning a deat ear to the mutterings of a lew conscripts and exempts whose peace meeting resolutions are paraded so conspicuously in the Raleigh Standard and Progress: .

The troops are in better fighting trim and in better spirits than I have ever seen them, and I feel the utmost confidence in the result of the next battle.

While writing, I hear heavy firing up the river. Stewart's cavalry are at work, and in all probability the long expected fight has commenced. Another desperate our liberty and independence is about being played. God grant that we be the

I saw Capt. Erwin, of the Mecklenburg as usual in fine spirits. His brigade passed up the river early this morning.

President Davis to Gov. Brown

From the Atlanta Intelligencer, Sept. 24.] "In conclusion I take great pleasure- in recognizing that the history of the past year affords the amplest justification for your assertion, that if the question had been, whether the conscription law was necessary in order to raise men in Georgia, the answer must have been in the negative. Your noble State has promptly responded to every call that it has been my duty to make on her, and to you, personelly, as her Executive, I acknowledge my indebtedness for the prompt, cordial and effective co-operation you have afforded me in the effort to defend our common country against the common enemy.

JEFFERSON DAVIS

THE YANKEES IN FLORIDA. - A gentle man, who arrived in Savannah on Thursdap, informs the News that, on Wednesday last, a number of Yankee barges approached Bay Port, Florida, (which is a port on the Gulf some forty miles north of Tampa Bay,) and burnt an English steamer which had run the blockade with a valnable cargo of goods. The steamer was aground at the time about one and a half miles from Bay Port. The Confederate troops in the vicinity were in small number, and, deeming their fire insufficient to repel the enemy and save the property at the Port, set fire to several small vessels lying at the wharf, and fell back.

Mr. Parsons, finding it impossible to save the goods in his warehouse, set it on fire, and it was speedily consumed. I contained a large quantity of the steamer's cargo, which had been landed and stored, together with a quantity of cotton intended for the steamer. The steamer St. Marys, well known in Savannah and Florida, has recently been raised; but, upon finding that she had been badly strained and leaking, she was again sunk in eighteen feet of water.

Military Meeting.

At a meeting of the soldiers of Rutherford county, of Scale's brigade, Capt. F. L. Twitty was called to the Chair, and A. B. Carson and John L. McDowell was requested to act as Secretaries.

The object of the meeting being explained, the following named committee were appointed to respond to the patriotic address of the young Ladies of Rutherford: Lieut. Geo. H. Mills, James Davis, T. B. Twitty, M. Hampton and A. D. Flack .-The following reply being presented was unanimously adopted:

"TO THE YOU & LADIES OF RUTHERFORD." Having read with mingled sorrow and pride your very interesting and noble letter, published a few days since in the "Daily Bulletin," and addressed to the soldiers of North Carolina. we, a remnant of Rutherford soldiers, take special delight in thus acknowledging . to you our unbounded gratitude for the assurance of your une ceasing patriotism. In reading such bold declarations of devotion to our glorious cause on the part of our noble fair, we are stimulated to more desperate efforts for the freedom of our country, the honor of our State, the defence of our homes and the loved ones there.

And we can grasp with more manly courage our weapons of defence when woman's gentle voice is ever whispering in our ears, "forward" our cause is just and holy. We deem it but just to say honor to the young Ladies of Rutherford, who se nobly and unhesitatingly express their protest against such demonstrations of hatred to the cause of independence and the rights of freemen, honor to your names forever, since in the very midst of a host of such base skulkers who would be statesmen for their country, but whose ignominious and cowardly hearts will not permit them to fight for her freedom, a host of would-be great and brave men, when they are surrounded only by women and children, and who with the dignity of a Cicero clamor for peace, that peace which would everlasting shame to the soldier, has the right to call for it,) vile our nation and the beginning of of bondage' to our women and

We say honor to your names forever, in the midst of extortioners, croakers. skulkers of duty and such like declare that you despise insiduous cowards and that your faith is strong in the prowess of Southern arms, the valor of Southern soldiers and the justice of a righteous God. We must confess that such a faith on the part of the fair ones at home is a ray of comfort to our sorely tried and oppressed spirits, for it is real sunshine amid the thick darkness that has long since settled around the hopes of the weary and care worn soldiers, and again we can lay hold of the hilts and declare that under such assurrances we can with renewed zeal and energy strike for liberty, and while we strike we know it is for our independence and for your freedom, for our honor and your protection.

We are the more hopefully assured of a speedy recognition of our independence as a nation, of a speedy and honorable peace, that peace which all true men hail with pride and with joy since the women of our land call for it and the principles of right and honor, for verily do we know that it is only for woman to say and the work is done.

And again tendering our unfeigned thanks for your letter of comfort, and for the honorable and wise position that ye, the daughters of our sunny South have taken, we promise renewed devotion to our sacred cause, and as true soldiers, having secured that which all true men desire, to return to our homes with the proud hope of securing

From the Trans-Mississippi. Advices from Arkansas to the 7th state that up to that date there had been no fighting there of any consequence. The Federals find but little sympathy among the Arkansians. The people, in fact, are represented as intensely hostile. A party who went out from Brownsville. Texas, on a foraging expedition, offered the citizens greenbacks for delicacies; they, however, refused it with disdain, declaring that they would rather take brown paper, Confederate script was eagerly taken by

A gentleman who left Little Rock on the 6th, reports that eighteen hundred Indians, armed and in' full . war paint, had entered that city General Smith had relays of horses from the city to Arkadelphia, some ninety miles. He says Price's army was about thirty thousand strong.

On the same authority it is stated that the planters who are permitted to haul their cotton to Memphis to procure family supplies, are required to pay over to the military authorities there, 'one hundred dollars per bale for the privilege.

Major John Dunwoody has arrived dis rect from Texas, having left San Antonio on the 21 inst. He reports everything in the trans Mississippi Departments as very favorable. The army is being rapidly recruited. Its supplies of food, clothing ammunition and arms are believed to be abundant, and the spirit of the people is unconquerable and defiant.

The Situation in Front-The Battle of Chicamauga. From the Atlanta Intelligencer, Sept. 24.]

We have the most gratifying intelligence from the front, The battle of Chicamauga has been fought and won, and the enemy no longer polutes Georgia soil with his presence. The indications, too, are plain that a large portion of Ten e will soon be delivered from the p astated dal foe that has so long fields, insulted, outraged, and plumered her gallent people. A telegram now before us, dated on vesterday, addressed to a distinguished Tennesseean in this city, and coming from one who is in a position to know the situation of affairs in the vicinity of Chattanooga, says to the Tennes-

"THE ROAD IS CLEAR, COME ON HOME."

Doubtless we are now in possession of Chattanooga, and if reports, upon which we place implicit reliance, be true, in his front and in his rear, and on all sides, the wily Rosecrans, with a bar remnant of ands deprived the ability his arm his position, or with the main portion of his forces to escape. We are advised that thousands of his men have been made prisoners since the last fight, and that they keep surrendering themselves in bodies of fitties and hundreds along the line, stating that they had been estitute of food for two days.

rily has the bloody battle of the m of Death" proved pregnant alwith great results; that momentous will flow from it, should its advane pursued in very heart of nnessee, we have every reason to beheve-results that will establish in the future the fact that the South cannot be conquered-that the South will soon be free. Of the much abused and traduced individual, Gen. Bragg-all of which he has borne with the fortitude of a christian soldierwhat will now be said? Avaunt ye croakers, ye censors of the press, ye malcontents, and closet critics! Hide your "dininished heads." and learn from the events of the past few days a lesson that will teach you forbearance in the futurethat will teach you to "hold up" the arms of those that lead your armies into battle, and not to pull them down! But we forbear, and will only add that Georgia owes to Gen, Bragg and his gallant army an eternal debt of gratitude. But for his strategy, his masterly movements, by which he circumvented, and finally defeated the wily Rosecrans, our State would now be experiencing what Virginia, and Tennessee, and Mississippi, and others of our Confederate sisters have experienced, and our city have been in possession of the vandal foe. All honor, then, to the noble old Chief and gallant army that came in time to our rescue!

Below we give such items of interest as we wore able to ga ther up yesterday morn-

We learn from sources deemed reliable, that on yesterday (Tuesday) Gen. Forrest destroyed the pontoon bridge across the Tennessee river, by which the enemy expected to cross in the event of defeat, but being driven from that portion of the river they fell into our hands.

It is also stated that the right wing of our army had succeeded in getting in the enemy's rear, cutting off his retreat by way of East Tennessee.

Rosecrans' men are reported to be without any rations or ammunition, all their stores having been destroyed to prevent their falling into our hands.

Our capture of light artillery will foot up 53 pieces, many of which are very fine Parrot guns.

The battle-field is represented as literally covered with dead and wounded Yankees, and a very intelligent gentleman informs us that the enemy's loss will exceed ours five to one. All our wounded have been removed from the field, and are bee ing as well cared or as circumstances will permit.

green corn and state that if cut off from crossing the river, the whole army will surrender, rather than starve.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN HILLSBORO' .- We regret to learn that a destructive fire occurred in Hillsboro' on Saturday night last. A friend informs us that it broke out in the old Turner Tavern and extended to the drug store, destroying some fourteen buildings. The loss must be considerable .-We regret to learn that a couple of the Newbern refugees were among the sufferers. - Raleigh Progress.

MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES -The Herald has a long editorial on the military situation, concluded as tollows:

We have yet, however, only two months of the year left as upon which we can rely for military operations in Virginia, North Carolina or Georgia. Within this interval, if we dispose of the army of Lee and the army of Bragg, we shall end the rebellion; but if we fail, Jeff Davis may thereby secure a new term of three or even six months grace, during which we know not what may be the developments of our tereign relations. We must, therefore, again admonish the administration to make its hay while the sun shines, and to hurry up the work.

Pretty Thoughts.

What is crime? A wretched vagabond weling from place to place in truitless ordeavor to escape from justice, who is tantly engaged in hot pursuit; a toe to virtue and happiness, though at times the companion of innocence, which is too often made to suffer for the guilty.

What is thought? A fountain from which flows all good and evil intentionsa mental fluid, electrical in the force and rapidity of movements, silently flowing unseen within its own secret avenue; yet it is the controlling power of all animated matter, and the chief main-spring of all our action.

What is hapiness? A butterfly that roves from flower to flower in the vast garden of existence, and which is eagerly pursued by the multitude in the vain hope of obtaining the prize; yet it continually eludes their grasp.

What is fashion? A beautiful envelope for morality, presenting a glittering and polished exterior, the appearance of which gives no certain indication of the real value of what it contains therein.

What is wit? A sparkling beverage that is highly exhilerating and agreeable when partaken at the expense of others; but when used at our own cost it becomes bitter and unpleasant.

What is knowledge? A key that unavels all mysteries, which unlocks the entrance, and discovers new, unseen and untrodden paths in the hitherto unexplored field of science and literature.

What is fear? A frightful substance to the really guilty, but a vain and harmless shadow to the conscientious, honest and upright.

What is joy? The honey of existence really beneficial and agreeable when partaken of in moderation, but highly injurious when used to excess.
